

I pledge to uphold and protect the constitution and the by-law of the Waltonian Archer and to do my part to promote friendship with my fellow archers and to cooperate with my fellow members for the betterment of the club and archery.

Waltonian Archers 1935 - present

1935. The club was formed in April of this year led by Fred Enders. The charter members were Warren Hartman, Fred Enders, John Kohls, and Don Seegers and with the help of the local Isaac Walton league (only the name is retained although there is no connection with them). Some of the other members were W H Linders, Jack Dysart, Russ Graham, Paul Samos, Charles Murray, Miles Fisher, Peck Hogland, Don Meyers, and Mary Newland. There were twenty-three members in the club, seven of which were women. There were no permanent records kept the first few years and the by-laws were lost and were rewritten. The meetings were held twice a month in the member's homes. Club officers were elected in December of this year. There was $6.31 in the club treasury
1936. The meetings were still held twice a month in the homes of the club members. Fred Enders was president
1937. Playground activities were started, and all the shooting was done at Ellis Park. It was decided to have a tournament this year. Shooting fees were to be $.50 and trophies were to be given to the winners. There was to be a junior division as well (if four or more members showed up to shoot). There were other clubs being formed as well in the surrounding area and Fred Enders as well as other members did a lot of traveling to help them get started. The Iowa State Archery association was also started in Cedar Rapids and Fred Enders was the secretary. People had to join this organization on a club basis rather than an individual basis. The Waltonian archers was the first club to join the NFAA (National Field Archery Association) it can truly be said that Cedar Rapids was the birthplace for archery in the state of Iowa. A small compensation was given to the club members for their efforts. Some examples were State dues were paid for the best monogram design $1.00 for target legs and the secretary was paid $2.00. Warren Hartman was president
- 1938 A junior membership was started, and the applicants were required to pass an examination on archery safety, shooting, and general conduct as well as character. One of the firsts to join was Mary Ellen Kraus (now known as Mrs. Bill Finnegan) there were many social event or different parties on most of the holidays. The by-laws were again lost and were rewritten. Some members discussed the possibility that the club should have a game preserve. Miles Fisher was president
- 1939 This year showed the least ever in the club treasury of $2.23 in March. The dues were raised to $2.00 per member. Other clubs were still being formed throughout the state. The club had its first state target tournament there were prizes given to the men with the most gold's the women were given prizes for the lowest scores. The club shot indoor during the winter at a place called Archery Hall this was an old bowling alley there were a few problems with people paying their dues they had to come before the club and ask for more time this was usually given. There were few holidays that went by that didn't have a picnic or a party of some kind. Miles Fisher was president
- 1940 All new members were given this pledge to recite I pledge to uphold and protect the constitution and the by-law of the Waltonian Archer and to do my part to promote friendship with my fellow archers and to cooperate with my fellow members for the betterment of the club and archery. The most improved medal was given out for the first time this year. As well as for the 600 American and 500 Columbia rounds. All the old targets were given to the girl scouts and the boy scouts. There was a flower fund set up o give flowers for the people who were either sick or passed away. A game preserve was secured for a conservation project maintained by the club. There was quite a bit of excitement about some stolen targets and the individual was apprehended. The club also had a question box. Members from other clubs in the state were invited to the club meetings to tell of there progress. All the members were given tassels for there scores different colors for different scores all new members were given green ones the secretary was still paid $2.00 and her assistants shooting fees were paid Lou Meyers joined the club this year. Miles Fisher was president

- 1941 On April 28th of this year the Articles of Incorporation were written the club had 47 members. There were 12 instructors at the playground this year. Tournaments were planned, and a committee was set up for each. The club offered a $10.00 reward for anyone caught and convicted of shooting on the game preserve this was paid out only once (they really meant it when they said no guns). Don Seeger was president
- 1942 Each member had to make a target to certain specifications or be fined $3.00 (Dues plus $1.00). There were contests in the early days and each member made his own equipment as well as equipment for the club and there were prizes given for the best job and the best design. This year the practice was started whereby all new members were on probation for 30 days with shooting privileges only after which he was either voted in or out. Bob and Agnes Lindsey joined the club this year. Miles Fisher was president
- 1943 These years brought more changes to the club as it progressed and grew playground instructors were to receive $1.75 to $2.00 per night for instruction. Club members needed to apply for this position there was a smaller target made for the women to practice on. All the old targets were donated to the campfire girls as well as the boy scouts. Miles Fisher was president

Some of the awards given out were 500 Colombian awards as well as the 600 American for the lowest score for men and women. This year's pins cost the club $1.65 with a $.03 per letter charge as well as 2% sales tax. The evening before the shoot was used for practice for those who wanted to. Another committee was also formed to consider the club equipment and to take inventory of it. The indoor shooting was done at Roosevelt school in exchange for the instruction of the kids. The different classes of shooting were started this year. John McGuire was president
- 1949 The club was shooting at Bever Park for the field shoots and the target shoots were at Ellis Park. The club also had a booth at the sports show at Hawkeye Downs. There was also open house for the club. If members worked extra hard their dues were paid as well as the secretary things must have been going well as the minutes are not very clear at this point. Bob Lindsey was president
- 1950 There was a team shoot this year they also had a booth again at the sports show and handbills were handed out at the sports show. Dick Coyner was president
- 1951 The club voted to extend honorary membership to club members who were in the military for their stay in the service. The secretary was to have her dues paid and she returned the money to the club. - 1955 Earl and Dorothy Wyatt joined the club. Indoor shooting was again at the Coe College field House quite a few programs were dropped also a few new programs were started. Chuck Naxera was president
- 1956 This is the year that the club purchased 80 acres of ground near Toddville. How to finance this was of some concern. Fourteen members advanced the money for the purchase of the land these people were: the Adkins, the Bakers, the Naxera, the Smith, the Vanourny, Bill Post Phil Rummels, the Wyatts, the McBurney, Mr. Naxera (Chuck's father). They were to be repaid at a rate of 10% per year and at 5% per year interest. The club was to be called Enders Field in honor of Fred and Betty Enders. The club dues were to be raised to $12.00 a year and this was to stay that way until the loans were paid off. The dues could be paid on a quarterly. Four new life memberships were granted to Fred and Betty Enders, Don, and Mable Seeger. The ladies' auxiliary was formed to raise money for needed repairs at the club and the first Chairperson was Naomi Post. Although the men worked miracles with practically nothing every now and than something had to be purchased and during the discussion about where the funds were to come from someone would "What about the ladies" when asked the funds were gladly given and another improvement went to the club. The grounds were purchased in the spring and a lot of work was need before the first Silver Broad head there was a queen contest and Eleanor Stegman was named the queen. Mayor Meahan crowned her. There was an extensive search for water. Les Gouak was president
- 1957 The club members planted 800 pine trees after the grounds were cleared. There was a dedication ceremony. This consisted of the shooting of an arrow into a plaque by Fred Enders there was some concern that this might unnerve Fred. Bob Linsey pointed to a spot in the center of the plaque and told Fred to shoot that spot this is what Fred proceeded to do. There wasn't a dry eye in the crowd. Les Gouak was president
- 1958 Al Nelson and Burns Byram took up the search for water but were unsuccessful. In the fall, there was a Halloween costume ball, and this was a lot of fun. The club returned to some of the social events to raise some money. Jim Lewis was president
- 1959 There were a lot of new members in the club. There also was another successful Silver Broad Head shoot. The club celebrated the golden anniversary of Fred and Betty Enders. Clarence Baker and Jim Lewis built a scale model of the new kitchen. There was also a foxhunt this year and the only thing caught was a cold or two. The club treasury had about $1000.00 the ladies' auxiliary treasury was about the same. Burns Byram was president
- 1960 The dream of the ladies was realized with the building of the kitchen. The men said that they would build it if the ladies would paint it. What the men neglected to tell the ladies was that the occasional black spots were tar and this would bleed through the paint. So, after a couple of coats the women were a little discouraged and returned to the task of planning for the Silver Broad Head. The only exception was a little Dutch girl (Dorothy Wyatt) who kept plugging away until she found a paint that would seal the tar. And the new kitchen was a snowy white for the biggest shoot of the year. During the Silver, Broad Head this year some of the older members and former members were invited back to the club and there was a recognition program for them. There was a Robin and Maid Marion contest for the youngsters. It is interesting how the club has changed over the last twenty-five years. Wonderful people have and still belong to the club and there have been many changes and many champions as well. It is most gratifying to return to the range and to see all the hard work being carried on. The fireplace still intact this of course makes us feel that our efforts were not in vein. Al Nelson was president
- 1961 The Silver Broad Head continues to be the main shoot of this club. Tait Cummins of WMT radio and television did quite a bit to promote this shoot through the media. The club acquired our first fogger machine even though it seemed a little doubtful as this was on loan for 30 days for approval. It was voted not to purchase this but for 30 days had passed it was purchased at the next club meeting. The problem arose with the bringing of guests out to the club it was decided that each person could only come out as a guest only three times in a calendar year. If they were still interested, they would have to join than. There were various locations for the different club events. The Christmas party was held at the Central Park Presbyterian Church and an old Bowling downtown was used for the indoor shooting the meeting were held at City National Bank and in the summer they were held at Ellis Park with potluck afterwards. Mr. H. E. Harrington gave the club the Leon Morris trophy in Leon's name
